Decreases in Investments and Combined Deposits Shown for Last Week in Reserve Board Statement

om The Tribune's Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Aggregate duction of 142 millions in loans and reduction of 142 millions in loans and investments, accompanied by commensurate decreases in combined individual and bank deposits, are indicated in the Federal Reserve Board's consolidated statement of condition on January 28 of 829 member banks in leading cities.

All classes of loans and discounts show substantial reductions for the

All classes of loans and discounts show substantial reductions for the week: Loans secured by United States government obligations, by about 17 millions; loans secured by United States government obligations, by 29 millions, and other (largely commercial) loans and discounts by 49 millions. The total reduction for all classes of loans and discounts was 95 millions, of which 52 millions represents the reduction at the New York City banks. Holdings of United States bonds and Victory notes show a decline of 5 millions and those of Treasury certificates, because of sales to ultimate investors and purof sales to ultimate investors and purchases by the government, a decrease of 34 millions.

For the New York City banks corresponding decreases of 2 millions in United States bonds and Victory notes and of 13 millions in certificates are noted. Investments in corporate securities show a reduction of 8 millions for all reporting banks and of 5 millions for the member banks in New York City. The latter report a decline of 72 millions in total loans and investments, or more than one-half of the reduction shown under this head for all reporting banks.

New York City. The latter report a decline of 72 millions in total loans and investments, or more than one-half of the reduction shown under this head for all reporting banks.

Accommodation Is Reduced

Accommodation of all reporting banks at the Reserve banks shows a reduction for the week from 1,934 to 1,908 millions, or from 11.8 to 11.7 per cent of the banks' total loans and investments. For the New York City

For the New York City banks, mainly because of the large withdrawals of bank balances by country correspondents, borrowings from the local Federal Reserve Bank show an increase from 794 to 828 millions an increase from 794 to 826 millions, or from 14.6 to 15.3 per cent, of the total loans and investments of these banks.

Since October 15, when a maximum total of 17,284 millions was reached, loans and investments of reporting banks declined by 987 millions, while their accommodation at the Federal Reserve banks was reduced by 341 millions. For the same period member banks in New York City show a reduction of 453 millions in loans and discounts, as against a decline of only discounts, as against a decline of only 22 millions in their accommodation at week of 64 millions, net demand deposits declined by about 112 millions,

Darkest Days For Building Are Now Over

Material Makers Turn Atten-Drop in Cost of Cement

Eastern College of Chiropractic Buys for Home in Newark

Building construction has turned the point of its darkest depression, according to interpretations, of underlying factors in the industry as made by The Dow Service Daily Building Reports. Reasons for this conclusion are based upon the changed tone of letters of instruction and policy being sent out to sales representatives by large building material manufacturers, by a turn in volume from commercial to housing construction and the growing consciousness on the part of prospective building investors that basic building material prices have reached shrinking limits under existing producing costs.

Probably the last notable price reduction for this year in the basic building material is tis the current one of 40 cents a barrel in dealers' prices in Portland cement, delivered on the job, New York, with the usual 25 cents a bag rebate to the consumer for the empty cotton sacks in good condition.
